Lee S. Darwin, 32, Dies of Pneumonia Tuesday in Glasgow – Services Held Wednesday for Merchant Who Lived Here Many Years – Ill For Only One Week.

Funeral services for Lee Sadler Darwin, 32, who died in Glasgow, Ky., early Tuesday morning after a week’s illness from pneumonia, were conducted at the Methodist church here yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Bernard A. Skyes, pastor of the Glasgow First Presbyterian church. Burial took place in the city cemetery.

The Rev. Hugh L. Goodpasture and the Rev. Harvey W. Seay, presiding elder of the Cookeville District, and the Rev. Dow A. Ensor assisted in the funeral services.

Young Mr. Darwin, on of Glasgow’s most prominent business men, was a native of Jackson county, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Darwin. He had spent most of his life in Cookeville, where he received his education in the public schools here and at Tennessee Tech. He was prominent in school affairs while here, and entered the dry goods business shortly after leaving school.

Born November 13, 1902, Lee Sadler was the tenth of eleven children, and is the first to die. His death was a distinct shock to Cookeville, as well as to Gainesboro and his home, Glasgow.

Worked in Oklahoma:

Lee Sadler spent some time in Oklahoma working with his brother-in-law after completing his education, and returned to enter the dry goods business here with his brothers, members of the firm, Jenkins and Darwin Bros. He was sent to Glasgow as manager of their branch store there, and had been there for the past six years.

He was married to Miss Louise Draper September 15, 1927, and she and their two sons, Bill and Lee S. Jr., survive. Other survivors are four sisters, Mrs. J. M. Draper and Miss Blanche Darwin, of Gainesboro; Mrs. J. P. Johnson, of Eric, Okla., and Miss Margaret Darwin, of Cookeville; six brothers, Claude, Charles K., Richard and Dero Darwin, of Cookeville; O. F. Darwin, of Lebanon, and Hugh Darwin, of Jackson county.

Mr. Darwin was prominent in Glasgow business and civic circles and was a member of the Glasgow Rotary Club and the Country Club. He was also a Mason, and was a member of the First Presbyterian church, joining the local church ten years ago. He was also a member of the W. W. A.

Pallbearers: Active pallbearers at the funeral, during which time Cookeville business houses were closed for one hour, were, Joe Frank Hudgens, James Carlen, Dr. Fred Terry, Edwin Reeves, Davidson Gardner, George Evans, Walter Birdwell, and W. M. Bradford.

Honorary pallbearers were, Wendell Johnson, Keith Crawford, E. Y. Gibson, Dr. J. P. Terry, Sam Epperson, Ben Baugh, P. V. Overall, Dr. Max Winningham.

Mrs. R. H. Darwin, 29, Dies Sunday in E. State Hospital – Unexpected Death Shocks City Where Former Girl Was Popular – Services Were Tuesday.

Mrs. Richmond H. Darwin, 29, the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Maxwell, daughter of A. G. Maxwell, Sr., died at 8:45 Sunday morning in the Greenville Sanatorium, Greenville, Tenn., where she was removed from her home at Newport after a short illness.

Her death was a shock to Cookeville where she was born and reared, and where as a girl and matron she was popular.

Funeral services were conducted at the Cookeville Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon by Elder J. Petty Ezell, pastor of the Murfreesboro Church of Christ, and Dr. O. H. Tallman, pastor of the Cookeville church. Burial took place in the City Cemetery.

Daughter of Mill Owner:

Mrs. Darwin was born in Nashville March 8, 1903, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Maxwell, Sr. Her mother died when she was a young girl. Mr. Maxwell is a prominent Tennessee lumber products manufacturer.

Her primary education was received in the Cookeville City Schools, and she attended Tennessee Tech, Milligan College, Tennessee College, at Murfreesboro, and Washington Seminary, in Atlanta.

She was married to Richmond H. Darwin February 6, 1925. Mr. Darwin was then connected with the Cookeville Motor Company, but later became manager of the Jenkins & Darwin Bros. store in Dickson, where two years ago he and Mrs. Darwin went to reside. They lived in Dixon until three months ago, when Mr. Darwin was transferred to managership of a new store at Newport.

Mrs. Darwin became ill at her Newport home, and was rushed to the Greenville Sanatorium, where she died.

Prominent Family:

Connected both by birth and by marriage with two of the most prominent families in Middle Tennessee, Mrs. Darwin was one of Cookeville's most popular young women. She was active in social and club work until she left Cookeville, and was prominently connected with the social activities of Dickson and Newport.

Besides her husband she is survived by her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Maxwell, Sr., three sisters, Mrs. John Q. Owsley, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Clarissa Bailey, and Miss Patricia Maxwell, Cookeville, and two brothers, Frank Maxwell and A. G. Maxwell, Jr., of Cookeville.

Active pallbearers were Levi Cooper, Dr. Max Winningham, Hubert Clark, Keith Bohannon, James Carlen, Henry Frank Carlen, Fowler Clark, Zeb Barnes, of Cookeville, and Don Reeder, of Dickson.

Honorary pallbearers were C. S. Jenkins, Dr. W. A. Howard, J. H. Carlen, S. D. Wilhite, J. D. Holladay, Morrison Lowe, Robert Lowe, J. N. Cox, Dr. J. T. Moore, F. E. Harris, Dr. H. H. COOKEVILLE — Funeral services for Mildred Cecil Elder Mullins Davidson, 95, of Cookeville will be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 7, at Hooper-Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Cookeville City Cemetery.

Family will receive friends from 5-7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6, at the Cookeville chapel of the funeral home.

Mrs. Davidson died Tuesday morning, Dec. 4, 2012, at Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

She was born in Pickett County to the late John and Sarah Elder.

Mrs. Davidson lived in Pickett County until she was 25, when her home was displaced by Dale Hollow Lake. She moved with her husband, Lynn Mullins, to Cookeville in 1943 and lived on Dry Valley Road. Lynn Mullins was killed in October 1953 in an automobile accident. They had two daughters, Mary Lynne and Brenda. Mrs. Davidson later married Ken Davidson, who died in 2000.

She was an active member of First Baptist Church of Cookeville and a retired employee of Lamb Oil Co. of Cookeville. She was an avid gardener and a life-long Democrat.

Her family includes two daughters, Mary Lynne Mullins Bayne of Memphis and Brenda Mullins Dorsey of Shelton, Wash.; three grandsons, William C. Bayne II of Austin, Texas, Robert Lynn Bayne of Memphis, and Adam Dorsey of Los Angeles, a granddaughter, Rhea Dorsey of Silver City, New Mexico, and four great-grandsons. She also leaves two step-granddaughters, Paula Fortner of Hendersonville and Vicki Capps of Cookeville; two step-grandsons, Rex Jones of Villa Rica, Ga., and Ken Davidson of Cookeville; and six step-great-grandchildren.

In addition to her parents and two husbands, she was preceded in death by a sister, Lucille Crouch; and two brothers, Dale Elder and Gilbert Elder.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to First Baptist Church of Cookeville, 18 S Walnut Ave, Cookeville, TN 38501 or to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Tribute Program, PO Box 1000 Dept.142, Memphis, TN 38148.

Dr. Randall Adkisson and Rev. Charles Hutchison will officiate the services.

Hooper-Huddleston & Homer Funeral Home (931-526-6111) is in charge of arrangements.

DAVIS, HENRY P.: Putnam County Loses One of Her Best Known Citizens –

Henry P. Davis died at his home in this city last Sunday afternoon from a complication of diseases, his fatal illness being brought on from exposure and getting wet while attending the funeral of Capt. Walton Smith two weeks ago. While all knew he was very low, the news of his death was a great shock to our citizens. He was buried Monday evening with Masonic rites, Rev. W. H. Carr assisting, in the presence of an immense concourse of friends and neighbors, who came to pay their last tribute of respect to the honored dead. Henry P. Davis was born in September, 1844, in what is now the First district of Putnam county, but was then a part of White county. When the Civil war broke out, although only a boy, he enlisted in Capt. Shaw's Co. 25th Tennessee Infantry, serving his full term of twelve months, and re-enlisted in Dibrell's cavalry, with which command he served until the end of the war, participating in many battles and campaigns, and making a fine reputation as a soldier. He mustered out at Washington, Ga., in May, 1865. After the war he returned home and worked for some time at the oil wells on Spring Creek, earning money with which he paid his way through Cumberland Institute, a school then flourishing in White county. In 1870 he was elected county court clerk of Putnam county, serving efficiently for eight years. He was a member of the legislature in 1881-2, retiring with added honors. Early in life he professed religion and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church, since which time he had been an active member, and one who enjoyed a happy christian experience. He was an elder in the church at the time of his death. In the 70's he married Lydia Solomon, who survives him, as do also three daughters, Mesdames. R. P. Morgan and Whitley Hyder, and Miss Maggie; and six sons, O. M., Lem H., Roscoe, Edgar, Will and Newton. All were at his bedside but two, Lem and Edgar. He also leaves two sisters, Mesdames. Wm. Huddleston and Leroy Carr of this county, and three brothers Stephen D. and J. Richey of Texas, and John, who resides near Cookeville, as well as many other relatives, the family being large and influential. Henry P. Davis was one of the most widely known and best loved citizens of this section, and his death causes a loss that can never be filled. He was a model citizen, loyal friend and neighbor, a loving husband and indulgent father. The Herald unites with the entire community in extending heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Date 3/25/1903, Vol. I, No. 7, Page 8]

Henry P. Davis (1844-1903) was a son of William Davis a leading pioneer resident of the County.

He was born and reared on the old William Davis farm three miles Southwest of Cookeville. He was born Nov. 14, 1844 and was therefore under seventeen years of age at the outbreak of the Civil War. He volunteered as a Confederate soldier, became a Lieutenant of his Company and made a notable record as a soldier. He taught school in his young manhood and in 1870, when he was only twenty-five years of age, he was elected County Court Clerk of Putnam County, in which office he served for eight years. In 1880, he was elected Floterial Representative from Putnam and White Counties.

While he was County Court Clerk he studied law and was admitted to the Bar. For several years after his admission to the Bar, he did not confine himself to the practice of his profession but engaged in the mercantile business and other business pursuits, but, for about twenty years prior to his death, he was engaged in the practice of his profession. For several years, he was associated in the practice with the late Judge George H. Morgan, under the firm name of Morgan and Davis.

He was a man of splendid native ability, a most fluent and forceful speaker and was an educated and well informed man of deep convictions and high moral courage. From his young manhood he was a devoted member of the Cookeville Cumberland Presbyterian Church in which he served as an Elder for many year and until his death. He also served for years as Superintendent of its Sunday School. He was an active member of the Masonic Lodge. He was a deeply religious man. He reared a large family. Will C. Davis, a well know Cookeville business man is one of his sons. H. Dawson Morgan, widely known Cookeville produce merchant, and Dr. Cecil Davis, Cookeville druggist, are his grandsons. The mother of Judge Beecher C. Huddleston was his sister.

O. M. Davis Dies At Home Here: Burial In Local Cemetery: Unique Character Passes Away, Following Brief Illness – Possesed Unusual Abilites:

O. M. Davis, better known as "Pinegar" died at his home in this city last Monday, after an illness of short duration. Mr. Davis had been in declining health for some time, but his friends did not apprehend that the end was so near. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. R. Goodpasture, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, of which organization Mr. Davis was a member.

"Pinegar" Davis was a rather unique character. He was possessed of an unusually keen intellect, which, if properly developed, would have approached brilliancy. He had a natural taste and ear for music, played the piano and violin passively well, and enjoyed musical entertainemtn. Early in his young manhood he was educated for ministry in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, but later he gave up the idea of becoming an active church man and allowed his natural talents to deteriorate. He also had poetical inclinations and on two or three occasions published small pamphlets containing some attention and received favorable criticisms. He was a son of the late Henry P. Dave. He leaves a wife and several children.

Name: O. M. Davis

Death Date: 19 Jun 1922

Death Place: Putnam, Tennessee

Lieut. Millard DeBerry Dies Of Heart Attack in Honolulu:

Major and Mrs. Roy T. DeBerry, Junior Military Academy, Bloomington Springs, are in receipt of a telegram from the War Department stating that their son, Lieut. Millard Thomas DeBerry, U. S. Naval Reserve, had died on September 19, at Pearl Harbor, T. H., where he was stationed in the service of his country. Major DeBerry learned from additional communication that his son died unexpectedly of a acute ailment and the day prior to his death he was apparently in the best of physical condition. In a letter received by his parents under date of the 17th, Lieut DeBerry stated he hoped to be home by Thanksgiving.

Lieut. DeBerry was reared in Putnam County where he attended the elementary and high schools and graduated from the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. Prior to his enlisting for naval duty in September, 1941, he was a member of the Junior Military Academy faculty. The early part of 1942 he was commissioned an Ensign at Prairie State College, New York City, and later attended Lehigh University in Bethlehem, PA. While on sea duty in the Atlantic area he was promoted to Lieut. (j. g.) and following 22 months of service in North Africa he returned to the States in December, 1944, and for a time was on temporary duty in Washington D. C. In the intervening months he received his Lieutenancy. In June, 1945, he spent his leave with his parents, and at the expiration of same, reported to the West Coast where he was stationed until sailing for his Pearl Harbor assignment.

In addition to his parents, Lieut. DeBerry is survived by a brother, J. T. DeBerry of Detroit, MI, and four sisters, Mrs. Forrest Evans, Misses Edith Mable, Maxine, and Dorothy DeBerry, grandmother, Mrs. Meda DeBerry, Bloomington Springs, and Mrs. M. F. Hamilton, of Humboldt.

Through many community leaders now urged women to exercise the franchise, there was considerable apprehension over women holding political offices. The Herald carried letters, reprints from other newspapers, and editorials reflecting this fear. Mary F. Denny was the first woman to run for elective office in Putnam County. In May of 1921 she announced as candidate for the Democratic nomination for Putnam County trustee. Mrs. Denny had held clerical and secretarial positions in the postal service,

Cookeville town government, and at TPI; but in her campaign she found it necessary to explain that she needed the public office because she was the sole support of her invalid husband and son and to deny a rumor that her husband received a pension. She asked, "Is there any reason why I should be defeated just because I am a woman? I am asking for this office in order that I can better care for a man who cannot care for himself." Mrs. Denny won the nomination and the election and served two terms as trustee. Pg. 167 – Printed in the Herald – 25 August 1921 – pg. 1.

Prominent Carpenter, Cabinet Maker, Succumbs to Heart Attack. Was Buried Here
Odd Fellow Member - 34 Years

Funeral services for Silas Dean Denny, 80 who died at his home on Oak Street, Sunday night after a short illness, were conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Dow A. Ensor. Burial took place in the Cookeville City Cemetery.

Mr. Denny's death was a shock to his hundreds of friends in Cookeville and Putnam county, where he was well known. He had been in town Sunday afternoon and had started to his home after the Tennessee Central passenger train No. 1 had pulled out. Mr. Denny had met passenger trains almost daily for many years, and had appeared to be in excellent health Sunday afternoon when talking with friends at the depot. He was stricken when near his home, became worse later in the night, and died toward midnight.

He was a native of Putnam county, being born near Buffalo Valley, December 1, 1854, the son of Jonathan and Agnes Winfree Denny. He was educated in the public schools of the county, and early in life became a carpenter by trade. He moved to Cookeville about 40 years ago, and by his woodwork became known as one of the best carpenters and cabinet makers in the state.

He was married in 1879 to Miss Molly Essex, who died seventeen years ago. To this union three children were born, Walter Denny, Mrs. Gertrude Dillard, of Cookeville, Ed C. Denny, of Fort Worth, Texas. Walter Denny died here several years ago.

Mr. Denny became a member of the Methodist church when a young man, and had been a steadfast member until his death. He had been a member of the Cookeville, Lodge, I.O.O.F., for 34 years, joining in 1900 shortly after his removal to Cookeville.

Active pallbearers were Judge Oscar King Holladay, Hubert Clark, Linnaeus Milan Bullington, Leslie Marvin Bullington, Virgil Timothy Denny, Dr. E.A. Conger, and Clifford Massa.

Honorary pallbearers were W. A. Holladay, Hiram Knight, U. T. Brown, Beeman Graves, Comer Cannon, Jim Haynes, Bill Hughes, Jim Viteto, Theodore Essex, Hugh Hargis, Walter Carlen, Dillard Hix, P.Y. Jared, D.W. Dow, Bonnell Appel, and Perry Wassom.

SILAS DEAN DENNY: Another One of Our Widely Experienced and Well Seasoned Contractors and Builders:

In issuing this Special Illustrated Edition of the Herald, we are doing considerable boosting – urging the development of our raw resources, the farmers to produce more agricultural products and allkinds of live stock and everybody to erect more buildings and better buildings and in this connection it is quite appropriate to speak of our contractors and builders. One of the busiest and more progressive of these gentlemen is Mr. S. D. Denny, who is a native of Smith County, but has been a citizen of Cookeville for the past twenty-one years. Mr. Denny has been in the contracting and building line for thirty-five long years, principally operating in Tennessee and Kentucky, and is too well known to require any introduction at our hands. He has erected a number of high grade buildings of both residence and business character in Cookeville, and at this writing is applying the finishing work to the new and magnificent Arcade Building.

Dr. William Everett Derryberry. Siblings of William E. Derryberry: Dr. O. Merton Derryberry md Kathryn Martin; Kay Derryberry & F. Woodrow Derryberry. Dr. William Everett Derryberry, s/o Felix Oscar Derryberry (1883-1934) & Bonnie Everett McDonald (1883-1959).

'President of Tennessee Tech 1940-1974'

'Pianist, Artist, Beloved First Lady Of Tennessee Tech'

Mrs. Joan (Pitt-Rew) Derryberry was an accomplished musician, who organized and supported many cultural events and musical programs area-wide. "Mrs. D.," as she was affectionately called, composed and played a sonata in the first major concert of the Tennessee Tech Music Department in 1948 and was the composer of the Tennessee Tech hymn.

During Dr. Wm. Everett Derryberry's tenure as president of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, now Tennessee Technological University, enrollment increased, it became a university, and state fundings was secured to operate the Seventh Street School as a training ground for teachers. Later the school's name was changed to TTC. Under Dr. Derryberry's guidance, the school offered master's degrees in engineering and education. New dorms and classrooms were built to accommodate the increased enrollment.

Gov. Prentiss Cooper chose William Everett Derryberry as president of TPI in 1940. He graduated Summa Cum Laude from the University of Tennessee, and he earned a second Bachelors Degree and a M. A. from Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar. Everett married Joan Pitt-Rew of Devonshire, England, who came to Tech with him. Derryberry served as TPI's president until 1974, the longest serving chief executive of the institution. During his administration, Tech built most of the campus structures, added the master's and doctorate programs, became Tennessee Technological University, and increased student enrollment to almost 6,400.

President Derryberry's avocation was architecture, and building the campus was his delight. He used the quadrangle design that he had observed in Oxford, constructing buildings around open quads. He continued the use of the ne-Georgian and neo-classical styles of the older campus buildings. Classroom buildings, dormitories, athletic facilities, and administration building, a library, a basketball coliseum, a university center, and a new president's home were all constructed during his presidency.

President Derryberry was interested in developing the academic program at Tech. He achieved accreditation for the individual programs as well as reaccreditation for the school; he established the master's degree program in several disciplines and the Rh.D. program in engineering; and he worked with the Tennessee general Assembly to change the school's name to Tennessee Technological University.

Everett Derryberry was born in 1906 in Mount Pleasant, TN and raised in Columbia, TN. A smart youth, he was valedictorian of his high school class, where he also played varsity football for seventh through twelfth grade. He then attended and played football for the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, where he graduated with straight A's, a feat never before accomplished in the history of the university. From there he was nominated for a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University in England where he earned an MA Oxon and met the lovely and talented Miss Joan Rew, whom he wed in 1933. In 1935, a son, Walter, was born, followed by a daughter, June, in 1937. He taught English at Burritt College, UT Martin and Murray State College in Kentucky before, in 1940, Governor Prentice Cooper's call came in, asking him to come to Cookeville for the job of President of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. He was instrumental in the growth and development of TPI, which under his auspices became Tennessee Technological University. The first building on campus, the administration building, came to bear his name: Derryberry Hall. Research: Walter Derryberry. Script: Walter Derryberry. Actor: Walter Derryberry, son of Everett Derryberry.

DIETZ, CHARLIE: Charlie Dietz, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Dietz of this city, died at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, Jan. 29, 1905. He had been suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for several week, and finally pneumonia developed, which was the immediate cause of his death. Charlie was about 7 years old and a bright and kindly little fellow. Of such are the kingdom of heaven. The little form was laid away in the city cemetery on Monday afternoon, services being conducted at the residence by Rev. G. W. Nackles. The Herald extends its heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing family. [Date 2/1/1905, Vol. II, No. 52, Page 1] Putnam County Herald newspaper, Cookeville, TN.

DIETZ, CHARLIE: Charlie Dietz was born Dec. 23, 1897, and died Jan. 29, 1905. He was a child of more than ordinary intelligence and sensibilities. He was one of those bright, witty, attractive children which always demanded attention. In the home, on the street, and everywhere he was always noticed. His picture of himself and his dog, which he had made without the knowledge of anyone, was perhaps the cutest thing he ever did. . . . Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Denny Dillard, 78, will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel of Whitson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Mrs. Dillard, a native of Putnam County, spending the greater part of her life in Cookeville, died Monday at Ft. Sanders hospital in Knoxville. She had been ill for many weeks. In recent years she had called Lenoir City home residing with her daughter, Mrs. Arnold Judd the former May Katherine Dillard. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Cookeville.

Mrs. Dillard was the daughter of the late Silas and Molly Essex Denny, who resided on Oak Ave. for a long period of time.

Mrs. Dillard was the sister of the late Walter and Ed Denny. Besides her daughter she is survived by three granddaughters and a great grandchild, all of Lenoir City. Patsy Judd is a Tennessee Tech student.

The body arrived at Whitson Funeral Home this afternoon where the family will receive friends this evening.

Dillard – Denny Wedding:

A wedding of interest to many Cookeville people occurred in Nashville, June 28, 1916, when Miss Gertrude Denny and Mr. Lavert Dillard were made man and wife. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. W. E. Doss at the Jared House at 8 o'clock in the morning in the presence of about 25 friends, mostly from Cookeville. Mr. and Mrs. Dillard left immediately by auto for their home near Shelbyville, where Mr. Dillard owns a fine farm.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Denny of Cookeville. The groom has been in business in Nashville for several years but returned to his farm this spring.

DITTY, MARGRET J.: . . . On the night of Aug. 4, 1904, the angel of death visited the home of our neighbor A. H. Ditty of West Cookeville, and summoned his beloved wife, Margret J. Ditty, to her eternal home. She was born Oct. 11, 1838, had been a consistent member of the M. E. Church South for a number of years, died in the triumph of a living faith and went home to God. She was laid to rest in city cemetery to await judgment day. We would say to her loving husband and affectionate children, weep not as those who have no hope. One day there will be a happy reunion where there is no more sighing, heartaches nor death, but joy, love and peace. E. E. DORMAN AND SISTER DIE SUDDENLY HERE LATE TUESDAY. Prominent Resident Here Had Been in Failing Health for Four Years. Shock Believed to Have Hurried Sister's Death After She Saw Him Die. Services This Afternoon: Herald, Cookeville, TN: 25 May 1933, pg. 1.

Edward E. Dorman, 72, died suddenly at his home in West Cookeville late Tuesday afternoon of a heart attack, and his only sister, Mrs. Carrie W. Walden, 64, of Chicago, visiting in his home, died 20 minutes later of a similar attack, believed to have been instigated at the sight of his death.

Mr. Dorman, long a prominent Cookeville resident, had been in failing health for the past four years. Shortly before his death, however, he had appeared amiable and had chatted freely with friends who had visited him.

Mrs. Dorman and Mrs. Walden had assisted Mr. Dorman from his chair to a bed when he suffered his attack, and immediately Mrs. Walden became faint. She became violently ill a few minutes afterwards, and expired soon after medical aid reached her.

Started When 12: Edward Elmer Dorman was born in Allegheny, Penn., February 22, 1861. At the age of twelve he assisted his father, David Dorman, at the throttle of a railroad locomotive on a Pennsylvania railroad. He began his training at the Pittsburg Locomotive Works and delivered engines for that company to railroad systems throughout the United States.

He was married to Lucy A. McCowen, of Alliance, O., when a young man, and soon thereafter became connected with the old Nashville and Knoxville Railroad as engineer. He followed the road's trail through the unsullied Upper Cumberland until it reached Cookeville. The road was extended to Monterey, and for many years afterwards his father engineered the train from Cookeville to Monterey, and he ran between Cookeville and Lebanon.

Ran Shop Here: Since his retirement from the Tennessee Central Railway thirty years ago, Mr. Dorman had conducted a machine shop in Cookeville, and was recognized as one of the most expert machinists in the State. His health began failing about four years ago, and he retired from active business connections.

Joint funeral services were conducted at the Dorman home this afternoon by the Rev. Joe Barbee, pastor of the Watertown Cumberland Presbyterian Church, engineer for the Tennessee Central, former fireman for Mr. Dorman, and a life-long friend. His burial will take place in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Watson will be buried in the grave with her brother. She was the mother of Ralph Rout, of Chicago, and had made her home with him for several years. Mr. Rout was formerly connected with Will Stamps in the storage battery business here.

Besides his widow, Mr. Dorman is survived by two sons, Carl, of Jackson, Miss., and Edward F., of Cookeville, and a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite D. Hendrix, of Cookeville, and three grandchildren. Mrs. Hendrix is private secretary to Federal Judge John J. Gore.

Mr. Dorman was a charter member of the Lions Club, and was a member of the Cookeville Methodist Church, the Knights of Pythias, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Honorary pallbearers were member of the Lions Club, and Lee Douglas, Geo. Snyder and Bill Smith of Nashville; Lloyd McCluen, of Rockwood; Major Roy DeBerry, of Bloomington, Arthur Pedigo, of Cookeville; H. G. Loftis, of Algood. Active pallbearers were J. Lee Epperson, Dr. J. T. Moore, Willis Dow, S. L. Gipson, James A. Isbell, R. V. Overall, Judge John J. Gore and Leon Bockman.

Mrs. Walden is survived by her only son, Ralph Ront, and two grandchildren, all of Chicago.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 25 May 1933.

COOKEVILLE MACHINE SHOPS:

The Only Well Equipped and First Class Industry of its Kind in this Part of the State.

The importance of a thoroughly equipped machine shop, capable of turning out work of a high class, cannot be over estimated in a vast area of territory like that which is served by Cookeville. The frequent occasion for repairs to machinery of all kinds which should receive immediate attention particularly mill machinery – renders a plant of this character a necessity. Recognizing this fact, Mr. E. E. Dorman established the Cookeville Machine Shops in 1898. The territory he serves extends into all adjoining counties on the Tennessee Central railroad both east and west, north beyond the state line into Kentucky, and 25 miles south. Everything in the way of light and heavy machinery is handled, and prices are reasonable.

Mr. Dorman was born in Allegheny county, Western Pennsylvania, and has been a citizen of Cookeville since 1890. He learned the machinist trade in the Pennsylvania Locomotive Works at Pittsburg, and spent twenty-one years railroading as fireman and locomotive engineer. Was with the Pittsburg & Western and Pennsylvania systems and was ten years engineer on what is known as the Tennessee Central. He is a member of the firm of Dorman & High, manufacturers of shuttle blocks and tight barrel heads.

JUDGE J. R. DOUGLAS: Who Stands for All that is Upright in Business, Official and Private Life – His Success in All His Undertakings Set a High Example for Other Young Men.

Judge Douglass was born in Cookeville and was thirteen months of age when his father, (J. M. Douglass) who was a prominent merchant and stock dealer of this county passed to the better world. After attending the common schools he entered the Literary Department of the State University at Knoxville, and later graduated in the Law Department of that institution in 1897, soon afterwards being admitted to the Cookeville bar. Practiced one year in Dayton, Rehea county and returned home and a year latter formed a partnership with Judge T. L. Denny. This connection existed for a period of three years, after which he practiced single file. In 1903 Judge Douglass was elected for full six year terms in 1906 and 1912. Was chairman of the Putnam County Democratic Executive Committee from 1904 to 1908, and has served as a member of this, the Fourth Congressional District Committee and was for a number of years a member of this the Tenth Senatorial District Committee which comprises the counties of Putnam, Jackson, Overton, Clay, Cumberland and Pickett. Has a number of times been delegate to state convention and been a strong party worker.

After properly qualifying for law and just previous to entering in the local partnership with T. L. Denny*continues hard to read type*.

Rites Held Tuesday For Mrs. Nina Douglas, &&:

Funeral services for Mrs. Nina Early Douglass, 77, were held Tuesday morning in the Chapel of the Whitson Funeral Home. The Rev. M. F. LeCompt, pastor of the Algood Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in the Cookeville City Cemetery.

Mrs. Douglass died Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Lena High (the old Douglas residence) with whom she had boarded since the death of her husband, the late Charles Arnold Douglas. Her death followed an illness of about a month.

She was the daughter of the late Robert Early and wife, Sarah Moore Early. She was a native of Davidson County. She moved to Algood about 40 years ago, when her husband was a station agent for the Tennessee Central Railroad. Prior to this he was connected with the wholesale clothing firm of Bolivar H. Cooke and Co., Nashville. Later, in partnership with the late J. W. H. Terry, he was engaged in the merchantile business on the East side of the public square in Cookeville.

Mrs. Douglas was a woman of splendid intelligence and strong personality, and was the embodiment of good cheer and optimism. For many years she was very active in the cultural, civic, and religious life of Algood and Cookeville. She was a member of the Algood Methodist Church.

She is survived by a son, Charles A. Douglass, Jr., and a grandson, Charles A. Douglas, III, both of San Gabriel, CA. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Douglass, Jr. were with her in her illness.

David Linnaeus Dow:

David Linnaeus Dow was born at Carlyle, Clinton County, Illinois, Nov. 19, 1830; married Emily M. Harris, Dec. 23, 1848; died Aug. 12, 1915.

Mr. Dow moved to Putnam county in 1854, where he resided until his death with the exception of the three years from 1863 to 1868, during which time he lived at New Middleton.

He was a contractor and builder, and also a mill man for many years. Among the public buildings he erected in whole or in part were the first courthouse in Cookeville after the Civil war; the present courthouse at Livingston in 1871, at Celine in 1873 and the old courthouse in Gainesboro in 1874. He built and owned the first flour mill in Cookeville in 1875, and afterwards engaged in the lumber business.

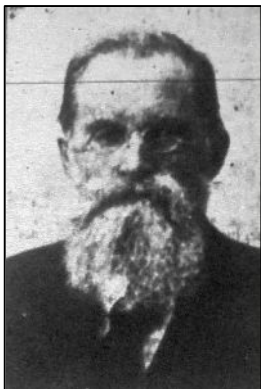

Mr. Dow was elected to the lower house of the Tennessee legislature and served in 1883 under the first administration of Gov. W. B. Bate, being the first direct representative from Putnam county.

His wife died, July 27 1909, aged 81 years. They reared a family of nine children, all of whom lived to be grown and married, five of whom survive him. Mrs. R. P. Baker, of Sparta; Mrs. G. W. Cowan, of Cookeville; John B. Dow, postmaster, and D. W. Dow, of Cookeville; and R. D. Dow, of Mequite, TX.

Mr. Dow was a well informed man on almost all subjects, having been a close student all his life until the past three years, when his eyesight became impaired so he could not read.

He was a devout member of the Methodist church for more than 60 years, always attentive to church and Sunday school, contributing liberally to both. He was a Master Mason, Royal Arch and Knight Templar.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT:

Death having once more eluded the vigilance of our faithful Tyler and entered within the sacred portals of our Lodge, another soul has been launched into eternity, another brother has been called home.

On the 12th day of August 1915, at his home in Cookeville, Tennessee, David L. Dow, our beloved brother answered the summons to higher fields of labor. His sincerity of purpose, kindness of mind and heart, and purity of life endeared him to all who knew him. Brotherly love, relief, truth, faith, hope and charity were practiced by him in his daily life among his fellows.

He is gone from among us, and yet let us hope his spirit will visit the confines of our Lodge and spur us on to greater proficiency and as a tribute to his memory we, your committee, present the following resolutions.

Resolved, That in the death of David L. Dow our fraternity has lost an intelligent and earnest supporter our country an enterprising citizen and his family an affectionate father.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning and that a page of the record book be set apart to perpetuate the memory of our esteemed brother.

Resolved further, That we tender the sorrowing children our heartfelt sympathy in this their greatest affliction and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the family as a reminder of our love and affection and copy be furnished the local papers. Signed: C. J. Davis, J. F. Dyer and J. R. Douglass.

Funeral Yesterday For Mrs. Willis Dow:

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Thompson Dow, 75, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack at her home in Cookeville Monday morning, were held yesterday afternoon at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. H. Thornton Fowler and the Rev. Dow Ensor conducted the services, and burial was in City Cemetery.

Mrs. Dow had been in ill health for a number of years, but was active in the work of her home until she suffered the heart attack. She was the daughter of the late G. B. and Sallie Rollins Thompson. She was married 59 years ago to Willis Dow, a survivor. Mrs. Dow was a native of Smith County, moving to Cookeville 60 years ago.

Active in the Methodist Church since she was 13 years of age, Mrs. Dow was crowned "Queen Mother" of the church last May by the Wesley Brotherhood. Her church work centered around the Ladies Aid Society and the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Dow leaves three daughters, Mrs. Albert Morris, New Middleton; Mrs. Walter Snodgrass, Detroit, MI, and Mrs. Hubert Crawford, Cookeville; one son, Julius Dow, Detroit; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for John Byrd Dow, 90, were held Sunday afternoon at the chapel of the Carver Funeral home. The Rev. Dow Ensor officiated and burial was in City cemetery.

Mr. Dow died Friday afternoon at a convalescent home in Sparta following a short illness. A native of Putnam County, Mr. Dow spent most of his life in Cookeville where he was active in civic affairs until his retirement a few years ago. Prior to entry in the lumber business he was a school teacher and in 1901 served a term as direct representative from Putnam County in the state legislature. In 1911 he was mayor of Cookeville and served eight years as postmaster during Wilson’s administration.

He was one of the founders a trustee of Dixie College, a school located a the present site of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. Later he served as a justice of the peace for the city of Cookeville and United States Commissioner with the federal court.

He was the son of the late David Linneas and Emily Harris Dow. His wife, the former Miss Elizabeth Owen of Franklin, died about 30 years ago.

Survivors include a son, David Dow, Cookeville; three daughters, Mrs. Curtis DuBois, Cookeville, Mrs. Bruce Angus, Grand Junction, CO, Mrs. Harold Duncan, Oak Ridge; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 13 July 1950.

A prominent businessman and civic leader, he was state representative from Putnam County in 1901. In 1911 he was elected mayor of Cookeville and was Postmaster for eight years. He was one of the founders of The University of Dixie and also a trustee of the university. He was married to Elizabeth Owen, she was a school teacher. They were the parents of David Thomas Dow, Mrs. Rose (Dow) Curtis DuBois, Mrs. Bruce Angus and Mrs. Howard Duncan.

Judge John Byrd Dow of Cookeville celebrated his 80th birthday on March 5.

Judge Dow is a native of Putnam County, having been born three miles from Cookeville in 1860. He was educated at Washington Academy here and taught school in Putnam and Smith counties. He once sold goods in Cookeville for W. P. Chapin in one of the earlier stores established here.

He was in the lumber business for many years and represented Putnam County in the Legislature in 1900.

He was mayor of Cookeville in 1912-13 and was Postmaster here 1914 to 1922.

He was City Magistrate for 8 years and U. S. Commissioner from 1933 until February of this year.

Judge Dow has four living children including, Mrs. Bruce Angus of Grand Junction, Colo.; Mrs. Harold Duncan of Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Curtis DuBois and David Dow of Cookeville.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: March 1940.

J. B. Dow To Mark Ninetieth Birthday:

Former Mayor John B. Dow will observe his 90th birthday on next Sunday at which time he will be at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Curtis DuBois on East Sixth Street.

A life-long resident of Putnam County, he has been prominently identified with the business and civic life of Cookeville and Putnam County since young manhood.

Throughout his active life he was engaged in the lumber and mill business.

He was representative from Putnam county in the General Assemble of 1901, and was postmaster of Cookeville during President Wilson's administration. Several years ago he served a term as Mayor of Cookeville.

Death Summons Mrs. J. M. Dowell: Prominent Cookeville Woman Succumbs to Fatal Illness:

The long illness of Mrs. Cleora Byrne Dowell, wife of J. M. Dowell, terminated at 7 o'clock on last Saturday morning, when the angel of death beckoned and the soul of this splendid Christian lady took its flight to the Haven of Rest.

All that loving service and professional skill could do was done to relieve the suffering, but to no avail. That "death loves a shining mark" was illustrated in the death of this useful woman. She was fifty-one years old and was a daughter of Terrell Byrne, a prominent and highly respected citizen of Jackson county, who died several years ago. Her girlhood days were spent at the family home near Granville. In 1896 she was married to J. M. Dowell and soon thereafter they located here. After spending a year or two on their farm east of town they erected their home on East Spring Street, where they afterwards resided.

Mrs. Dowell was a woman of excellent education and of great force and nobility of character.

She compelled the confidence and esteem of all with whom she came in contact. In her girlhood she joined the Methodist church and thereafter until her death she was an active, devoted and untiring worker in her church.

For many years she had been a teacher in the Sunday school of the Methodist church of this city and also president of the Ladies Missionary Society of her church.

During her long service as a teacher in the Cookeville Public School she endeared herself to hundreds of the young people of this city who were under her tuition and in whose hearts her memory is secure.'

She enjoyed her school work and did not relinquish her school duties until her impaired health about one year ago, forced her retirement.

In every relation of life she measured up to the highest standard. She bore her long suffering with Christian fortitude and patience and often expressed her perfect resignation and undoubting faith that all was well.

Her life was a blessing to this community and it will indeed be hard to fill her place in the church, the Sunday school, the public school and the community life.

The Methodist church was crowded to its full capacity on Sunday afternoon when the funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. P. Walker, her pastor, assisted by Rev. Sam Edwards. Scores of beautiful floral designs attested a community's love for one of its greatest benefactors.

Following the service at the church the remains were laid to rest in the Cookeville Cemetery, there to await that great and eternal day when the graves shall give up their sainted dead and their sleeping dual, re-animated and glorified, shall meet the Redeemer in the air.

The deceased is survived by her husband, J. M. Dowell, and by four brothers and two sisters, W. J. Byrne and Miss Leona Byrne of Cookeville, Bascom Byrne of Granville. Lawrence Byrne of Eugene, OR, Lem Byrne of Seattle, WA, and Mrs. Mattie Watts of Snyder, TX; also by many other relatives in this city and county. All who knew here were her friends and she was the friend of all.

Martin Dowell Is Victim Of Paralytic Stroke: Dies Monday: Services Held Tuesday Afternoon For Prominent Putnam Countian, Home Telephone Head: Member of Pioneer Family.

John Martin Dowell, 74, died at his home on Dixie Avenue here early Monday morning after being stricken with paralysis early Sunday morning. Although he had not been in the best of health for the past two weeks, his sudden passing was unexpected.

Mr. Dowell had lived in Putnam county and Cookeville most of his life having spent some time in Jackson county.

He was born November 15, 1857, the son of John and Rebecca Dowell, pioneer members of Putnam county's citizenry, and prominent farm dwellers on what was for years known as the "Dowell Home Place," about two miles South of Cookeville on the Bunker Hill Road.

Was Merchant:

Mr. Dowell was a farmer for several years, later coming to Cookeville where he entered the grocery business with W. J. Byrne, on the square. He was associated with Mr. Byrne for about 12 years. He was not a man of activity, preferring to live the quiet life that marked his residence here. For many years he had been president of the Cookeville Home Telephone Company, to which position he was re-elected at a recent meeting of stockholders of that concern.

He had the qualities of character and personality that made him looked upon as a man of noble ideals and traits, and through his kindness he had obtained the lasting friendship of hundreds.

He had been married three times first to Addie Johnson, then to Cleora Byrne, and last to Callie Sherrell, who survives him.

Funeral services were conducted at the Cookeville Church of Christ, of which he had been a member since a child, Tuesday afternoon by Dr. O. H. Tallman, and burial was in the City Cemetery. Active pallbearers were his nephews John Thomas Dowell, Walter Dowell, Thurman Dowell, Downie Wade, Byrd Loftis, Claude Loftis, Roland Terry Dowell, and Burch Dowell Wade.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four brothers, R. H., of Granville, J. L., of Roy City, TX, and W. B. and J. B., of Cookeville and a sister, Mrs. Mary Loftis, of Cookeville.

Prominent Cookeville artist Ramola Drost dies

by Mary Jo Denton

COOKEVILLE — One of Cookeville's best known artists, Ramola Drost, died yesterday at the age of 91.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 17, at St. Michael's Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Cookeville City Cemetery, and a memorial reception will be held at the Cookeville Art Center, 186 S. Walnut Ave., following the graveside services on Wednesday.

The family will receive friends at Hooper Huddleston and Horner Funeral Home on Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 5 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Drost, the widow TTU football coach Ray Drost, was known for her long years of service to this community as an artist and an art instructor who devoted much time to introducing others to the satisfaction of creativity.

In addition to the art she created and often gave away, she also had a sweet smile for everyone she met and always gave others the attention of her alert, engaging mind. She was always interested in what others had to say and in what was going on in the community.

One of her favorite causes was WCTE, Cookeville's public television station, and she was devoted to the annual fundraising auction there, donating her own works and serving with other volunteers to make it a success.

Last year on the occasion of her 90th birthday, the employees and volunteers at WCTE surprised her with a party, a big beautiful cake, and a story in the WCTE "Close-Up" spotlight feature.

At the birthday party, after her friends sang Happy Birthday to her, Mrs. Drost commented, "No, I'm not 90. I prefer to think of myself as 30 . . . times three."

The daughter of the late James Cline and Lena Rivers Simmons Drost, she was born in Greenville, South Carolina, on June 12, 1921.

She studied drafting at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and worked for TVA's Division of Forestry as head of the drafting department for a time.

In 1948, she married Ray Drost, who had played football at UT and who became a football coach. Eventually they moved to Cookeville, where he coached for the Tennessee Tech Athletic Department and her art talent led her into a teaching career at TTU and with the Cumberland Art Society.

Her family includes her son, Alan Drost, and her daughter, Sally Drost, both of Cookeville.

Sacred and beautiful were the services held for Mrs. Nancy Craig Dudney, wife of the late Amos J. Dudney, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Howard, Washington Avenue, Cookeville, Tuesday afternoon, attended by friends and relatives from Nashville, Gainesboro and Cookeville, and members of her family.

The services were conducted by Elder E. J. Ijams, pastor of Belmont Church of Christ, and member of the faculty of David Lipscomb College, Nashville, and lovely music arranged by Mrs. W. A. Howard, in which "Some Day I'll Know and Understand," was sung by Mrs. Herbert Carlen, and "Abide With Me," and "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," by the quartet: Mrs. Carlen, Mrs. Herbert Hughes, Allison Ensor and Rhion McGee.

In this last tribute to a beloved woman, exquisite flowers, inspiring music and a message of hope from a minister devoted to the family, made the going away of this loved one something dear and sweet to be remembered. Elder Ijams made a touching and appealing talk on devoted motherhood – real, genuine self-sacrificing motherhood, and paid tribute to the sons and daughters of Mrs. Dudney, left in the world as a memorial to her – monuments to good motherhood; and all lines of trouble and care were erased from this mother's face by the kindly hand of death, leaving her young, calm and at peace – for peace, sweet peace the gift of God's love – that peace that passeth all understanding had come to her and left its imprint of beauty on her face.

Mrs. Dudney left three sons: Clyde Dudney, Nashville; Amos Dudney, Birmingham, AL, Frank Dudney, Millington, MI, and three daughters, Mrs. Robert Eastes, Nashville, Mrs. C. D. Sheaffer, Chicago, and Mrs. Wilmot Freeman, Raleigh, NC, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Her death came after a five weeks' illness at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eastes, Capers Avenue, Nashville, surrounded by the love and care of her children and grandchildren. Her burial was in the Cookeville cemetery.

Those who came for the funeral services and burial were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easters, Mrs. Morgan Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dudney, Miss Catherine Dudney, Mrs. M. N. Young, Elder E. J. Ijama and Mr. Burnett, of Nashville; Mrs. Glenn Bryan, of Chattanooga, Amos Dudney, Birmingham, AL, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudney and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sadler, Robert Montgomery and Edward Dudney, Gainesboro, Mrs. Mary Dudney Taylor, Crossville, and a number of relatives and friends of Cookeville, Mr. and Mrs. Amonet Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Draper, of Algood, and Harold Hodges, of Crossville.

Active pallbearers were, T. D. Ford, J. N. Cox, J. H. Whitson, John Dow, W. R. Carlen, Tice Tobbins, A. G. Maxwell, Dr. Walter McClain, Charlie Darwin, H. S. Hargis, R. A. Montgomery and Frank Anderson, of Gainesboro, Charley Reagan, R. E. L. Proffitti, R. L. Maddux, Dr. Claud Martin, Henry Haile, J. A. Isbell, Dr. W. A. Howard, Herby Shanks, W. A. Hensley and Amonet Draper.

Mrs. Dudney was a woman of unusual culture and refinement, and while she had to live a secluded life on account of illness, she remained a constant reader. She bore her cross of affliction with gentleness and patience, and as the years went by she grew more spiritual-like a lovely cameo, carved into beauty by the trials and sorrows of life.

Mrs. Dudney's mother was Cora Draper, a daughter of James Draper, of Gainesboro, an early settler of Jackson county, and her sisters were Mrs. Nancy J. Cox, of Gainesboro, and Mrs. Henrietta P. Ford, of Cookeville. Her father was killed in the War Between the States, leaving a young wife and this one child, Mrs. Dudney was born in 1861 – the opening year of this war. On September 17, was married to Amos J. Dudney in 1881, and died February 19, 1934.

"Old friends, old scenes, will lovelier be,

As more of heaven in each we see;
Some softening gleam of love and pray
Shall dawn on every cross and care."

And the meaning of the cross-the-care-the tears, some day we'll know and understand, for "To walk in faith, nor dream of questioning God's scheme of truth and beauty," is real consecration in this life.

Avo (Goodpasture) Dyer Obt.

b. 1855, Overton Co., TN – d. 8 February 1930, md on the 10th of June 1894 to Dr. Jefferson Franklin Dyer, b. 6 July 1848, TN – d. 9 May 1929, s/o Edmond Dyer & Mary Buck. Avo (Goodpasture) Dyer, d/o Dr. James Goodpasture & Ava Arnold.

Mrs. Avo Goodpasture Dyer, widow of the late Dr. Jefferson F. Dyer, died Saturday night at her home in this city. Her death followed an illness of several months.

Mrs. Dyer was one of Cookeville's best known and most beloved women.

She was the eldest child of Dr. James McDonald Goodpasture and his wife, Ova Arnold Goodpasture. She was 74 years of age, having been born at Hilham, in Overton county, on September 27, 1855. In her infancy her parents moved to Cookeville in 1856, her father being Cookeville's first physician.

She had lived in Cookeville for seventy-three years and had witnessed its growth from its beginning.

From her girlhood she had been an active and devoted member of the Presbyterian Church of this place, in which both her father and her husband were ruling elders for many years.

The devotion of Mrs. Dyer and her husband to their church, and their long years of active and devoted service in its work and activities, is too well known in Cookeville to require lengthy reference. Throughout the long years of their married life, their home was literally a "preachers home," and her chief joy was found in Christian service and making her home a truly a Christian home.

It can be truthfully said of Mrs. Dyer, without the slightest exaggeration,

"None knew her but to love her: None called her name but to praise her."

One of the countless acts of her Christian service was that for more than a generation she had regularly prepared the sacramental emblems for the communion services of her church.

During her last days she endured her suffering with Christian resignation and bore the most fervent testimony of her Christian faith and her resignation to the will of her Heavenly Father. Her funeral occurred nine months to a day after the funeral of her husband, who was one of the best known and most highly respected physicians of this section of the state, having been engaged in the practice of his profession here for about fifty-five years.

She was married to Dr. Dyer thirty-six years ago.

She is survived by three step-children, Quimbly Dyer and Dr. Lex Dyer of this city and Mrs. Gertrude Dyer Southworth of Memphis, and by two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Mary Body and Mrs. Margery Jared and John B. Goodpasture, of this city, also by many other relatives in this county and section of the state.

Funeral services were conducted at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon by Rev. L. T. Lawrence, of McMinnville, and Rev. J. H. Miller, of Lebanon, followed by the interment of the remains in the family lot in the Cookeville cemetery.

The Active Pallbearers were O. E. Cameron, J. Lee Epperson, John H. Whitson, W. R. Carlen, J. M. McCormick, O. D. Massa, Beecher Gentry, Will Davis, Walter Greenwood, J. H. Johnson, Bob Lee Maddux and J. N. Cox.

The Honorary Pallbearers were Henry Algood, T. D. Ford, D. C. Wilhite, R. H. Harding, S. S. Webb, A. D. Pendergrass, L. D. Bockman, R. R. Bockman, S. Hayden Young, Dr. H. C. Martin, Dr. W. A. Heart Attack Claims Life of Dr. Lex Dyer at 83.

Dr. Lex Dyer, 83, believed to have been the oldest native Cookevillian, died of heart failure Saturday at his home at 22 N. Madison. It was the home in which he was born and had lived with his wife since 1930.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the chapel of Hooper and Huddleston Funeral Home. Burial was in Cookeville City Cemetery.

A physician of 58 years, Dr. Dyer treated patients in his office until he became ill last week. He had been in semi-retirement for the past three or four years.

Dr. Dyer graduated from the old University of Nashville which later became part of the University of Tennessee.

Dr. Donald M. Elkins Obt.

b. 15 September 1940, Woodville, AL – d. 23 July 2013, Cookeville, Putnam Co., TN, md on the 16th of February 1963, Maryville to Earline Mizell Elkins. Dr. Donald M. Elkins, s/o Lotus Marcum Elkins & Una Troup Elkins.

COOKEVILLE — Funeral services for Donald M. Elkins, Dean Emeritus of the TTU College of Agriculture and Human Ecology, 72, of Cookeville, will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, July 27, at Jefferson Ave. Church of Christ. Interment will follow in the Cookeville Cemetery.

Family will receive friends Friday from 5-8 p.m. at the Cookeville chapel of Hooper-Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home and again Saturday from 10 a.m. until service time at the church.

Dr. Elkins died Monday morning, July 23, 2013, at Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

He was born Sept. 15, 1940, in Woodville, Ala., to the late Lotus Marcum and Una Troup Elkins.

He began and ended his career at Tennessee Tech University — as an agronomy student in 1958 and as Dean of the College of Agriculture and Human Ecology, retiring in September 2005.

After graduating from TTU in 1962, Elkins earned both his master's degree and doctorate in agronomy from Auburn University in 1964 and 1967 respectively.

Later in 1967, he began what would become a 28-year career at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

He became TTU's dean of Agriculture and Human Ecology on Oct. 1, 1995.

Dr. Elkins authored publications, and received many awards, including being named the top agronomy teacher in the United States by the American Society of Agronomy. The National Association of College Teachers Association (NACTA) awarded him the Fellow Award and the Ensminger Distinguished Teacher Award. He was also named the Tennessee Tech University Distinguished Agricultural Alumnus by the Agricultural Foundation (1986) and the Distinguished Alumnus by the TTU Alumni Association (1989).

Among his greatest rewards and accomplishments is having worked closely with students. He started a student ambassador program at both TTU and Southern Illinois University. TTU's AG/HEC Ambassador program allows outstanding agriculture or human ecology students to serve as recruiters of new students and public relations representatives for the college.

Dr. Elkins was a member of Jefferson Ave. Church of Christ.

He is survived by his wife of 50 years, Earline Mizell Elkins (whom he married Feb. 16, 1963 in Maryville); two sons and daughters-in-law, Mark and Richelle Elkins of Acworth, Ga., and Dan and Amelia Elkins of Normal, Ill.; three grandchildren, Tyler, Anna and Joseph Elkins; and brother and sister-in-law, Bob and Nancy Elkins of Madison, Ala.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Donald M. Elkins Ambassador Scholarship Fund, SIU Foundation, 1235 Douglas Drive, Mailcode 6805, Carbondale, IL 62901-4308, or the TTU Donald Elkins Leadership Fund, c/o Ag Foundation, Attn: Lisa Rice, TTU Box 5165, Cookeville, TN 38505, or to Happy Haven Children's Home, 2311 Wakefield Dr., Cookeville, TN 38501.

Family and friends will serve as pallbearers.

Bro. Buddy Johnson will officiate the services.

Rev. Dow Ensor Dies At His Home Here:

We learn as we go to press of the death of the Rev. Dow Ensor, beloved Methodist minister of this section, at his home at noon today. He had been seriously ill for about four weeks.

Funeral arrangement are incomplete at press time.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 31 August 1950.

Herald - Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for the Rev Dow Allison Ensor, 75, well known Methodist minister of this section who died at his home last Wednesday afternoon.

A native of Putnam Co. the Rev. Ensor had been a minister for 53 years, holding pastorates at Donelson, Wartrace, Hartsville, Monterey, Gainesboro and other towns. Retired in recent years he had made his home in Cookeville and continued to fill the pulpit in churches in this section. He has probably officiated at more funerals than any other minister in this area of Tennessee often holding two services in one day.

Services were held at the First Methodist Church at 2:00 PM with Dr. Harry L. Upperman, president of Baxter Seminary, in charge assisted by the Rev. Thornton Fowler, Pastor.

Member of his Sunday School Class of the Cookeville Methodist Church served as honorary pallbearers. Burial was in the City Cemetery. The Rev Ensor was the son of the late Jonathan L. and Sarah Evans Ensor. Ordained to preach at the age of 22, the Rev Ensor was a member of a family of ministers. He has two brothers, Simon Ensor of Springfield and John O. Ensor of Sikeston, MO and a brother-in-law, the Rev O. P. Gentry of Smyrna, all of whom are now retired Methodist ministers. He was a Mason and kept his affiliation with the Masonic Lodge in Donelson.

Survivors in addition to his wife who before her marriage was Miss Lizzie Rash and two brothers include a son, Allison Rash Ensor of Cookeville, two daughters, Miss Frances "Fannie" Dowell Ensor of Cookeville, and Mrs. Brice (Mary Elizabeth) Stone of Washington DC; three grandchildren, Allison Ensor Jr. of Cookeville, Douglas Stone and Miss Barbara Stone of Washington; a sister, Mrs. Virginia Allison of Cookeville; his step-mother, Mrs. Almeda Ensor of Baxter, four half-sisters, Mrs. O P Gentry of Smyrna, Mrs. Oliver Maxwell, Mrs. Burch Gentry, and Miss Ida Ensor of Baxter; three half-brothers, Sam Wirt Ensor of Detroit, Mich., Jim, Robert, and Charles Ensor.

Note: Children of Rev. Dow Allison Ensor & Elizabeth "Lizzie" Rash are: Allison Rash Ensor, b. 8 Jan. 1901 - d. 6 Sept. 1990 md 1st Rose Nell Johnson (1900-1958), md 2nd Jean Perters; Frances "Fannie" Dowell Ensor, b. 13 Jun. 1906 - d. 14 Apr. 1967; & Mary Elizabeth Ensor, b. 2 Nov. 1908 md Brice Stone.

Educated in the public schools and Yeargan Select School. Taught school for eight years. Married to Miss Lizzie Rash twenty years ago. Minister of the M. E. Church, South. Mason, Odd Fellow and Knight of Pythias. Mr. Ensor joined the Tennessee Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in 1902. He is known to practically every citizen of the county as a strong advocate of better schools and better citizenship. He is now living on a farm near Cookeville.

Note: Serevices In Springfield Sunday For Polio Victim: Funeral services for Edward "Eddie" Ensor, 13, were held in Springfield Sunday afternoon with the Rev. H. T. Phipps and the Rev. H. C. McConnell officiating. Young Edward died at a hospital in Miami, FL, on Thursday morning. He was stricken with polio some time age and had recently suffered a broken leg in a fall from his wheelchair. He had been admitted to the hospital Wednesday for treatment. Surviving are his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Edward M. Ensor of Miami, FL; one sister, Sandra Ensor; grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Ensor of Springfield and Mrs. and Mrs. John Moulton of Springfield. He was a nephew of the Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Ensor of Cookeville. Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 20 October 1949

SPLENDID CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Just as we go to press we learn of the death of Dr. L. D. J. Ensor, one of Cookeville's most prominent physicians, and a most prominent physicians, and a most highly respected and beloved citizen, which occurred at his home at an early hour this morning.

Dr. Ensor had not been well for the past few weeks, having been suffering from a nervous trouble and had not been at his office for some days. His sudden death came as a great shock to his family and many friends by whom he will be greatly missed, for he was well known throughout the county and belong to one of the pioneer families of this section. He leaves two sons, four daughters and a large number of friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Dr. Ensor was between sixty-five and seventy years of age and had practiced medicine in this county for many years. He was a high-toned Christian gentleman, measuring up to the full stature of a real man in all his acts and dealings. He was a devout member of the Methodist church and always took a great delight in church work. He was also a member of the Masonic order and his burial tomorrow will be conducted by the local lodge of Masons.

Dr. Clement M. Eyler Obt.

b. 1897, NC – d. 1979, md Mary (Candler) Eyler.

Dr. Clement M. Eyler, well-known former Tennessee Tech professor and international sports authority, was declared dead on arrival at Cookeville General Hospital yesterday.

Services for Dr. Eyler, 82, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Saturday, Feb. 17, at 2 p.m. with the Rev. David Campbell and Rev. David L. Meyer officiating.

Born in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, in 1897, Dr. Eyler attended numerous schools, and in 1946 obtained a Doctor of Philosophy degree from George Peabody College. He also received two Bachelor degrees from Columbia University and did research at Harvard, Yale the University of London and at Oxford.

He began his career in coaching basketball and football games while teaching at Georgia Military Academy. For 16 years he coached basketball at Milligan College. He was chairman of the Rules Examination Committee of the International Athletic Association of Basketball Officials from 1956-1973.

In 1940-41, he became president of that organization, and was later made honorary lifetime president and delegate to the IAABO, the only person to have received that honor.

He came to Cookeville in 1956 and joined the faculty at Tennessee Tech as associate professor of English and retired from the faculty 11 years ago. Prior to coming here, he has been superintendent of schools in Bristol, TN.

A colonel in the Army Reserves, Dr. Eyler served in three wars. In WWI, after being trained and commissioned a second lieutenant, he helped train other officers at Clemson University in South Carolina.

During WWII, Eyler activated and trained a company of military police, and later worked with military police and military intelligence at the Pentagon. In the Korean War, he was called up for training.

He was a Mason, honorary life member of Moose, past president of the Rotary Club and past president of the Kiwanis Club, which last year honored him with its "Community Service Award."

The Eyler family will receive friends at Hooper & Huddleston Funeral Home from 7 to 9 tonight. Burial will be in Crest Lawn Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Candler Eyler; two daughters, Mrs. Ed Soukup of Gulfport, Mississippi, and Mrs. Don Clodfelter of Brownstown, Indiana; seven grandchildren; one great-grandchild; four brothers, William, Arnold, Ed and Jack Eyler of Savannah, Georgia; two sisters, Mary Eyler and Mrs. Charles Butler of Savannah; a niece, Kathy Eyler; and a nephew, Billy Eyler.

A prominent Cookevillian is dead this week of pneumonia and the Tennessee General Assembly has passed a resolution paying its respects to the man. He is Col. R. L. Farley, 62. Born in the Newark community of White County in 1869, Farley became associated with the Bank of Cookeville in 1906. Shortly afterwards he and A. G. Maxwell Sr. formed a partnership that spawned numerous companies. They included the Cookeville Veneer Co.; the Carthage Spoke Co., which had mills in Carthage and Algood; the Egg Case Filler Mfg. Co. of Nashville; and the Letcher Co., a lumber operation in Kentucky. He was among those instrumental in the founding and early expansion of Tennessee Polytech and was well known on the state level as a prominent Democrat.

Robert L. Farley At Tribute: By Clara Cox Epperson:

When the many friends and relatives looked upon Robert L. Farley, better known as "Bob Farley," in his last sleep in the lovely lace-draped casket-couch in the living room of the home he loved so well, surrounded by exquisite, fragrant flowers, and saw the tender smile on his face, they could not but think that:

"Sustained and soothed
By and unfaltering trust."
He had indeed approached his grave

“Like one that wraps the drapery
Of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams.”
And know that,
“So he passed over, and all the
Trumpets sounded
For him on the other side.”

But on this side – the minor chords of grief and loss sound for him: that so beloved, useful and needed a life should thus suddenly close – yet, it only closes on earth to begin in heaven, for death is only an incident in life, leading to that fuller, greater, more perfect life beyond.

Bob Farley’s going away is a loss to his state that he served so faithfully and well, without a thought of self of selfish gain; to his town – the town and community of Cookeville, where he has given for long years such splendid service, and so quietly that few knew of his numberless deeds of service, kindness, charity and love;

“The best portion of a good man’s life,
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and love.”

And these deeds of kindness and love were told by the life-long minister friend: a friendly physician stayed watchfully near the bereaved wife during the last sad rites; the voices of friends sang softly the songs he loved, while the perfume of flowers from loving friends filled the home like incense; and then the last journey began.

The students of the City School and High School were lined up in front of the building to which he had so often gone in their interest, to pay tribute as he was taken by to his last resting place, attesting to the appreciation felt for his more than twenty-five years of untiring service as a member of the School Board; the church that he had always so loyally, in its silence mutely spoke of the loss that will be long felt; but above all, in the home – a good man’s kingdom, and in the broken heart of his loving, faithful wife, will the going of Bob Farley be most cruelly felt.

The utter devotion of these two; their complete understanding; their unwavering, unquestioning love and belief in each other, was beautiful and very rare; and the hearts of friends and relatives in this community and throughout the state, go out to this devoted wife, left so entirely bereft; so completely alone without the loving care of this beloved companion, but “Love is indestructible;

Its holy flame forever burneth;
From heaven it came, to heaven
Returneth.”

And in that heaven will be completion forever of that love broken here on earth:

“It soweth here with toil and care.
But the harvest time of love is there.”

FAMILY OF FOUR DIE IN FIRE

One Child Spared

The House Was in Flames: Four members of a former Cookeville family died at about 1 a.m. Monday as a fire swept through their home at 209 Capitol View Ave. in Maplewood.

The dead were identified as Willie K. Farley Jr., 28, his wife, Linda Gail Thompkins Farley, 23, and 2 children, Brenda Gail, 9 months, and Martin Carnez, 2. A third child, Richard Allen, 4, escaped the fire. He was found safe on the back porch of the house when firemen arrived.

Lawrence Allen, chief of the Joywood-Bordeaux fire department, said firemen arrived about 3 minutes after the fire was reported but by that time the back side of the house had fallen in. He said there was no way for them to get inside and save the victims. The fire is believed to have been caused by faulty wiring in the kitchen.

The bodies of the parents were found in the children's bedroom as well as the bodies of the 2 children. Firemen said the body of the 2-year-old was found with its head under a blanket in a closet.

A neighbor, R. A. Applybe called firemen. He indicated that when he detected the blaze it was already too far advanced for him to get into the house. Metro police officers also said they were unable to get inside the house when they arrived because the whole building was in flames.

Farley was a butcher at City Market in Cookeville for eight years before moving to Nashville two years ago where he was a butcher at Don's C. B. Store. Besides his son he is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Willie K. Farley Sr.; a sister, Mary Elizabeth Farley, all of Double Springs and a brother Charles Edward Farley of Baxter.

Mrs. Farley is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tompkins, three brothers, Phil, Vandal and Frank Tompkins all of Orlando, Fla.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Whitson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Five hurt in two serious crashes here yesterday

Mary Jo Denton

Herald-Citizen Staff

Thursday, May 21, 2009

Three persons were injured in this two-vehicle crash on W. 12th St. yesterday afternoon. Here, police begin making measurements after the victims were removed from the two cars and airlifted to hospitals in other cities.

COOKEVILLE -- Two serious traffic crashes on city streets yesterday afternoon injured five persons and kept emergency workers busy for some time, Cookeville Police Traffic Division Capt. Mark Maxwell said.

The first accident, which injured three persons, happened at 1:23 p.m. on W. 12th St. (the Gainesboro Grade) near the city limits.

The second accident, which injured two, happened at 2:02 p.m. at the intersection of E. Hudgens Street and S. Maple Avenue.

Capt. Maxwell said all five of the victims survived and some had been released from the hospital as of this morning. One victim, Mary Flatt, 81, of Cookeville, who remained in Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga this morning, probably suffered the most serious injuries, officers said.

In the W. 12th St. accident, Meredith Jeanette Hudson, 39, of Lafayette, Tenn., was driving a 2009 Nissan Altima, heading east. Kristen Hudson, 16, of Lafayette, was a passenger in the car.

Traveling west on W. 12th in a 1995 Chevrolet Monte Carlo was Jeffrey Richards, 42, of Cookeville.

Capt. Maxwell said the Monte Carlo crossed into the eastbound lane, causing the two vehicles to crash head-on.

All three crash victims had to be extricated from the wreckage, and three helicopter ambulances were brought in to transport them to hospitals in larger cities, according to Cookeville Fire Dept. Capt. Daryl Blair.

He said one helicopter landed at the scene of the accident, one landed at Cookeville Regional Hospital, and one landed in an athletic field at Tennessee Tech.

Both Meredith Hudson and Kristen Hudson were flown to Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville, and Jeffrey Richards was flown to Erlanger Hospital.

The Maple Ave.-Hudgens St. accident happened as Mary Flatt was driving a Honda Accord north on S. Maple Ave.

"She pulled from the stop sign at the intersection into the path of a GMC pickup truck," Capt. Maxwell said.

The driver of that truck was E. J. Mackie, 54, of Cookeville. He was traveling east on Hudgens.

"The vehicles collided, and both drivers were transported to Cookeville Regional Hospital, and Mrs. Flatt was later transferred to Erlanger Hospital," Capt. Maxwell said.

Mackie was treated at the hospital here and released later in the day, he said.

Both accidents are still under investigation today, he said.

"We also had other traffic accidents yesterday, but none as serious as these two. It was really a rough, busy day for all emergency services workers, and we appreciate all the help we had with these unfortunate incidents, help from the Sheriff's Department, the Cookeville Fire Dept., the county Fire Dept., and Emergency Medical Services. Everybody worked so well together."

Residents of Cookeville having lost another of the pioneer citizens in the passing of Miss Cora Ford who died Tuesday afternoon at her home on S. Dixie, where she had lived most of her life. She was active in church and community activities until two years ago when her health began to fail.

Funeral services for Miss Ford were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the Whitson Funeral Home with Dr. Charles N. Sharpe officiating. Interment was in Cookeville cemetery.

Miss Ford was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Ford. She not only lived to see her nieces and nephews but three other generations including a great-great-great-nephew, all of whom were closely associated with "Aunt Cora." Remarkable for one of her advanced years in many activities, Miss Ford during the past year made the dress in which she was buried.

She was a member of the Church of Christ.

She is survived by one brother, James F. Ford of Mobile, AL; eight nieces, two nephews and a number of great nieces and nephews.

Following an illness of several weeks the death of Walter L. Fowler, 69, occurred at the home of his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Ford, early Friday morning, November 1.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Whitson Funeral Home chapel with Dr. W. B. Boyd, Lewis Botts, of Whitleyville, two personal friends of the deceased and W. Clarence Cooke, Sr., minister of the local Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in City Cemetery.

Mr. Fowler, the eldest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fowler was born near Celina, Clay County where he spent the greater portion of his childhood. When a young man, he with his parents came to Cookeville to reside where for a number of years he was actively engaged in the mercantile business. Here he was married to Miss Luella Birdwell.

Later he, his wife and other members of the family moved to Ada, Okla., then to Quinton, Okla. Where he remained for a period of years, being the senior member of Fowler Bros. Dry Goods Company. He was a man of sterling character and was prominently identified with the leading business, civil and religious activities of the town. A member of the Church of Christ since early manhood, having been baptized by Elder Howard Sutton, he served as a deacon of the Quinton congregation. Following his business retirement some seven years ago, he and Mrs. Fowler returned to Tennessee and since that time have been living at their country home near Gainesboro.

Though ill for many months, Mr. Fowler's condition became critical soon after coming to Cookeville for a visit more than four weeks ago.

In addition to his wife he is survived by an only son, Walter Thomas Fowler, Springfield, Mo.; a foster daughter, Miss Vida Holt, Longview, Texas; a sister, Mrs. A. K. Thornton, Ada, Okla.; three brothers, Sidney Fowler, Truman, Ark., Charley Fowler, Weiner, Ark., and Frank Fowler, Cookeville. He was a brother of the late Mrs. R. L. Farley of this city.

Mrs. Fraser died Saturday morning, May 26, 2012, at her home, surrounded by loved ones.

She was born Dec. 22, 1923, in Danville, Va., to the late Clarence Dameron Brumfield and Annie Mae Brumfield Webb.

In the 1940s, she worked for the U.S. Government in the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department. All war bond tours were booked from this office, and celebrities came to the office in person to pick up their travel orders and itineraries. Among the celebrities who Mrs. Fraser met and talked with were Tyrone Power, Victor Mature, Paul Whiteman, Caesar Romero, Judy Garland, Joan Fontain, Alan Ladd, Eleanor Roosevelt and the three surviving Marines who planted the flag on Mt. Surabachi, Iwo Jima. She also had the privilege of having dinner at the Pentagon, seated with one of the most famous men in the world at that time, General Dwight D. "Ike" Eisenhower.

In 1958, she and her late husband, Dr. Richard Hobbs Fraser (retired dean of arts and sciences department and former history professor at TTU) moved with their daughter, Catherine, to Cookeville. They immediately joined St. Michael's Episcopal Church, where she remained an active member for more than 54 years, as long as her health permitted.

For 50 plus years, she was a member, former president, and held many offices in the PEO Chapter L (Philanthropic Educational Organization). She was also an avid reader and member of Cookeville Book Lovers Club. She had a passion for life and loved music, dancing and being with people. A true "people person" with a sharp sense of humor, she was generous beyond measure and always had time for her friends. Above all, she loved her family and was a wonderful and caring wife, mother, grandmother, mother-in-law and sister. She will be dearly missed.

Her family includes her daughter and son-in-law, Catherine and Michael Brock of Houston, Texas; a granddaughter, Melissa Brock of Nashville; a brother and sister-in-law, Shirley Martin and June Brumfield of Danville, Va.; a sister-in-law, Jaci Brumfield of Newark, Del.; and many nieces, nephews and other loved ones.

In addition to her parents and husband, she was preceded in death by her brother, Horace Dameron Brumfield.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Michael's Episcopal Church, 604 North Washington Avenue, Cookeville, TN 38501.

Pallbearers will be family and friends.

Father Joe Weatherly will officiate at the services.

FREEZE, JOSEPH CRAWFORD: His Life and Characteristics -- Joseph Crawford Freeze, was born in Green county seven miles from Greenville July 13th 1826, and was seventy years one month and twelve days of age at the time of his death. His parents moved to Overton county, near Hilham when he was but seven years old. In February 1848 he came to Putnam county and commenced life as a clerk for Bob Burton at what was then known as Cross Roads, two miles north east of this place. He lived there until 1856, the year after Cookeville was established, when he built the first store house here on the site of the present one and has continued his residence ever since, with the exception of two years that he was in the war. He was married in 1858 to Margaret S. Bounds who lived where Peekeville now is. Six girls and two boys were born to them, three girls and one boy, with his wife survive him. In 1862 he enlisted in the Confederate army and served two years with honor to himself and country. He was elected captain and subsequently major. After the war he returned to his business, and by his splendid ability accumulated a comfortable fortune. He joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1873 and from that time forward was its mainstay and pillar. It was through his effort that three churches have been built here, and the church and Sunday School owe more to him than any other man. He was one of the pioneers and landmarks of the town always on the side of morality and right. Energy and promptness were his slogan. He was seriously?? Honest and punctilious even to the minutest detail. He was authority on all events and happenings -- posed a wonderful memory. There was not a man in town who was more loved and no man so completely held the confidence of our people as he. He took great pride in the development of the country and always threw his whole soul in and of his undertakings. We do not wish to be extravagant in our praise of this truly good man, but we can say of a truth that the death of no man would be more regretted by our citizens than that of Maj. Freeze. His life was one of usefulness, and his influence will live in the hearts of those who knew him. May his good soul rest in peace. [Date 9/3/1896, Vol. IX, No. 46, Page 1]

FREEZE, JOSEPH CRAWFORD: Maj. J. C. Freeze Dead -- On Wednesday of last week as the sun was sinking behind the western horizon (sic) the life of Maj. J. C. Freeze ebbed peacefully away, and at 5:20 o'clock the soul of this good man, had gone to the God who gave it. His injury and subsequent death were a painful surprise and shock to people beyond expression. On the Saturday previous to his death he with his son A. C. left his store for dinner, and while on the plank sidewalk near his home he tripped over a loose board, and fell full length upon the walk, his face and stomach striking heavily. With the assistance of two men he walked him, and Dr. J. E. Dyer sent for who upon examination found that besides bruises on the face, Maj. Freeze had sustained internal injuries which in all probabilities would prove fatal. Dr. J. B. S. Martin was called in and the two skilled physicians did all in their power to save the sufferer, but he was at once beyond medical aid. It was hoped that his splendid physical resistance and will power would be sufficient to bridge him over, but he had received injuries which to men of ordinary powers of endurance would have succumbed much sooner.

He lingered along gradually sinking until Wednesday evening, when he yielded to the intense pain he had suffered. Maj. Freeze had all the aid that physicians and careful nurses could bestow, and his last hours on earth were made as pleasant as possible. Several times did those who were with him think that each breath would be his last, but as often did his system rally and he would revive. He was conscious until within a short while of his death. At 1 o'clock Wednesday morning he summoned his family around his bed side and bade them all goodbye admonishing them to be good to one another, and directing what dispositions should be made of his property. He faced death with a tranquil Christian fortitude and was ??? Cool and composed. His body was taken charge of Thursday by Cookeville Lodge No. 266 F. & A. M. and carried to the C P church at 2:30 p. m. where impressive funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Carr the choir rendering some beautiful and choice selections. The large auditorium and Sunday School room were filled to their utmost capacity by friends of the deceased, who came to pay a farewell tribute to the man they all loved. At the conclusion of the service his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery (sic) with masonic honours, in the presence of a large concourse of people. [Date 9/3/1896, Vol. IX, No. 46, Page 1].

Source: Some Prominent Pioneer Citizens of Putnam County and Their Record, By Ernest H. Boyd
Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 18 June 1953.

Major Joseph C. Freeze was reared in the Hilham community. At the original sale of town lots in Cookeville, he purchased the lot on the West side of the Public Square on which the First National Bank building is now located and immediately commenced the construction of a large two-story frame store building on that location and, upon the completion of the building, he opened a general store, with a large stock of general merchandise for that day, and, at that mercantile business until his death about forty years later, except during the period of the Civil War, when he was an officer in the Confederate Army. He joined the Confederate Army at the outbreak of the Civil War and was promoted to the rank of Major. He was a brave and capable Confederate officer.

He was active in public affairs in Putnam County from his young manhood until his death. He was an Elder and active member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He was a devoted member of the Masonic Lodge, instituted in 1857, in the upper story of the store building, where it continued to hold its meetings until the Civil War. He was always deeply interested in good schools, and, beginning in the early 80's, he worked hard, with others, to secure the establishment of a Cumberland Presbyterian College in Cookeville. He served for many years as Superintendent of the Sunday School of the Cookeville Cumberland Presbyterian Church. His home residence, on Dixie Avenue one of the first residences built in Cookeville, was recently torn down by Mr. S. D. Wilhite, who purchased the property.

Major Freeze enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the people of Cookeville and Putnam County in a high degree. He was a leader in every worthy and progressive movement for the up-building of his home town and county.

COOKEVILLE -- Funeral services for Bob Frizzell, 65, of Moss, will be held at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, June 2, from the chapel of Whitson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Frizzell family plot in Cookeville City Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 6-9 p.m. today, Monday, June 1, and from 8 a.m. until time of services on Tuesday at the funeral home.

Mr. Frizzell died suddenly on Saturday, May 30, 2009, at his home.

He was born April 26, 1944, in the family home, to the late Neely and Etta Franklin Frizzell.

Mr. Frizzell was a Cookeville business man for many years, retiring to enjoy life in 1994, the year he married his surviving wife, Eva Webster. His interest in business continued with his holding several commercial and residential investments. His greatest enjoyment was his farm in Clay County, enjoying family and continuing to travel. He was a charter member of Westview Baptist Church.

Anyone who knew Bob loved him; he was devoted to family and friends and cherished the lifelong friendships he made at Tennessee Tech Training School and Central High in Cookeville. He was a loving husband, a well-loved neighbor and adored grandfather. His times with the grandchildren on the lake, at the beach or on the farm were the most enjoyed and the most relaxed of his busy retirement. The grandchildren will long tell "Pa Bob" stories, the adventures, the fun and the food.

He was an avid reader, an expert on the American West and was fascinated with his family's history.

His family includes his wife, Eva Webster; a sister and brother-in-law, JoAnne and James Herron; a brother, David Frizzell; two stepsons and their wives, Reyes Lee and Carla Rich of Moss and George Webster and Michelle Bercaw of McDonald; and four grandchildren, Daysie Virginia, Caleb Webster, Grace Ann and Elisha Lee Rich. His mother-in-law, Juanita Lee Webster Wooden mourns his loss. His is also survived by a nephew and his wife, Randy and Lori Herron, and two nephews, Lance and Brady Herron, and a niece, Lani Herron.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his first wife, Evelyn Judd McBroom Frizzell.

Rev. Gary West of Nash Grove Baptist Church will officiate at the services, with full military honors at the graveside.

DO YOU REMEMBER (articles written about past events and people):

In the late seventies and early eighties, Cookeville was an incorporated town and Major J. C. Freeze, Capt. Walton Smith and A. W. Boyd served as Mayors under its first incorporation. Ben Gabbert was the town marshal under its first incorporation.

While serving as town marshal, Ben Gabbert, a splendid, kind hearted young man was shot and killed about fifty years ago. This tragedy occurred on a vacant lot on the North side of the Public Square. Ben Gabbert was not married and lived with his widowed mother, Mrs. Dianna Gabbert, and his sisters, Miss Mary Gabbert and Miss Leah Gabbert, at the old Gabbert home on Washington Avenue, just North of the County jail. Ben Gabbert was a special favorite to the Cookeville of the day. He was a man of great kindness of heart and a great lover of children. His death occurred during the annual fair of the old original Cookeville Fairs. The fair grounds of that old fair are now occupied by the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute.

Fifty years have passed since the tragic death of Ben Gabbert, Cookeville's first loved marshal, but the passage of the years have not served to dim the memory of Cookeville's older inhabitants.

(Source: Cookeville City Cemetery Walk presented by The Cookeville Museum, Sept. 2012):

History records that the Gabbert family was one of the first to settle in the Cookeville area. Dianah Coffee Gabbert, however, was born in Overton Co., TN, and lived there for a number of years. When she was fifteen years old she married a young man by the name of Benjamin Gabbert. The following year their first child was born followed by five more. Benjamin was a student of medicine and started a practice in Monroe, TN. Because of financial difficulties, Benjamin was forced to sell his medical library and move his family to Cookeville. The Gabbert family lived on what is now Washington Avenue and became very active in the Christian Church later to be called the Church of Christ. Unfortunately, Benjamin died in 1855 and left Dianah to feed their children. Having assisted her husband in his practice of medicine, she started helping the sick and injured in order to put food on the table for her family. She continued this occupation for many years and was referred to as Dr. Gabbert. The Gabbert family found the Civil War years as difficult as the other families in this area. Two of Dianah sons fought for the Confederacy as well as her brother. At the age of 82, Dianah died on Tuesday February 12, 1895, after four days of paralysis. Research by: Charlene McClain. MARINE'S BODY RETURNS HOME:

The body of Jose Garcia, Marine corporal killed in Vietnam July 17, was expected to arrive in Cookeville this afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the First Methodist Church with Rev. James Beasley officiating. Burial will be in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Garcia, 26, was originally from San Juan, Puerto Rico, but adopted Tennessee as his home after marrying Katherine Goff. Mrs. Garcia and their daughter, Christina Marie, five months, old, reside with Mrs. Ruth Goff at 649 Freeze St.

Garcia came to Cookeville five years ago to attend Tennessee tech, where he was a senior in music education when he withdrew in 1967 to join the USMC. The Garcias were married at First Methodist Church in August, 1966.

Besides his wife and daughter, survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Garcia of Hsto Ray, Puerto Rico, two brothers, Augustine and Noel, and a sister, Mariblanca.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: 1 August 1968.

Jose Garcia, husband of Katherine Goff Garcia, of Cookeville, was three weeks away from ending his tour of duty in Vietnam when the Marine's life was ended by a landmine while he was on patrol.

Two days later, the dog he'd shipped to his 4 1/2-month old daughter, Marcia, arrived in Cookeville. He'd never seen his daughter.

A native of Puerto Rico, he'd come to Tennessee Tech to study music after a vacationing Cookeville couple told him about TTU's school of music. He's to be buried in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Two Killed Thursday Bring County's 1953 Traffic Toll To 13:

Putnam County's 12th and 13th traffic fatalities went on the record books last Thursday night when their speeding car plunged from the highway and down a 20 foot embankment on highway 70-N six miles west of Monterey. The two victims were: Mrs. Willie Young Gaw, 34, wife of Tom Gaw, Cookeville groceryman and mother of four children. Thomas C. Barlow, 35, who had been manager of TPI Café for the past four months, moving here from Gainesboro.

Also seriously injured in the wreck was Mrs. Florence Roberts Barlow, with of Thomas Barlow. A report Tuesday from the Nashville Hospital where she was taken indicates that she may recover. Her injuries were listed as a broken arm, a punctured lung and a scalp laceration.

State highway patrolman A. C. Jared, who investigated the mishap said that the party were returning to Cookeville from Knoxville. The Barlow car crashed into the huge boulders on the roadside finally stopping on a large rock, it was reported. The accident happened about 10:00 p.m.

Mrs. Gaw was thrown from the car and her body was not discovered until after an ambulance had started to Cookeville with Barlow.

Jared was called to the scene of the accident from investigating another accident on Spring Street in Cookeville. In this mishap Billy Allen, Jr., 21 of Cookeville suffered a hip fracture when struck by a car driven by a woman listed as Miss Mary Evalene Milton, 23, of Windy, KY.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gaw were held Sunday afternoon at First Methodist Church with the Rev. Bruce Strother, Cookeville, and the Rev. G. C. McIlwain of Lafayette officiating. Burial was in city cemetery.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Betty Jean Gaw, a senior at Central High School and Carol Gaw; two sons, Tom Gaw, Jr., a high school junior, and Jerry Gaw, Cookeville, and two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Shipley and Mrs. Harvey Phillips, Cookeville.

Source: Johnson City Press Chronicle, TN, 30 Aug. 1979: Solon Gentry to be missed.

The community was jolted yesterday with the word of the death of Solon Gentry.

Mr. Gentry's death was unexpected, the result of a heart attack.

For some 30 years, he was connected with East Tennessee State University. Processions of students knew him first as a teacher of business, later as an administrator. He had ascended to the post of business manager of the university before retiring a couple of years ago.

He was a native of Putnam County but had lived in this area for a long time. He had served as a teacher at Unicoi County High School and at Science Hill High School before joining the faculty at ETSU.

His friends found his dry wit delightful, but he could be firm when the occasion demanded it.

He was a member of Munsey Memorial United Methodist Church and had been the teacher of the Couple's Sunday School Class for perhaps 20 years.

Mr. Gentry had always been concerned with community affairs and had been active in many of them. He was a keen sports fan and maintained an avid interest in ETSU athletic affairs. He served for years on the athletic committee at the university.

To his family, we offer our deepest sympathy. He will long be remembered.

Funeral Wednesday For Mrs. E. Y. Gibson: Beloved Wife of “Charlie” Gibson Succumbs At Home Here After Lingerin Illness:

Funeral services for Mrs. E. Y. Gibson were conducted at the First Baptist church here Wednesday morning by the Rev. E. S. Frye, Sam Edwards, and Dow Ensor. Burial was in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Gibson died at her home here Monday afternoon after an illness of several months, during which time hope for her recovery was held by those who knew her, and those who know her husband, “Charlie,” who is widely acquainted in Middle Tennessee. Although she had undergone two operations at a Nashville hospital her condition was seemingly improved before her death.

News of her passing was a shock to the entire city, and the sincere sympathy of Cookeville has been extended the bereaved family. Mrs. Gibson was a faithful member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, and four children, Louise, Robert, Edward and Joe. Other survivors are her sisters, Mrs. George M. Saunders, Sr., Mrs. C. M. Hall, and Mrs. Anna L. Stockton of Nashville, Mrs. R. A. McDord of Lewisburg, Mrs. M. J. Jones of Jefferson City, MO. She is also survived by a brother, Joseph A. Johnson, Jr., of Nashville.

Pallbearers were O. M. Adams, Geo. M. Saunders, Jr., S. D. Wilhite, Herman Proffitt, H. J. Shanks, Campbell Lee, Algood Carlen, and Hugh Caruthers. Honorary pallbearers were O. E. Cameron, C. R. Womack, O. K. Holladay, Henry Haile, R. L. Maddux, H. T. Whitson, O. D. Massa, W. A. Howard, V. R. Williams, G. Polly, D. C. Wilhite, C. M. Harris, J. C. Darwin, Solon Gentry, H. S. Hargis, B. M. Hudgens, John Cornwell, Herbert Carlen, Walter Ament, Benton Terry, Ezra Davis and F. E. Harris.

Children of Dr. J. M. Goodpasture & Ova Arnold are: John Bryan Goodpasture; Mary H. Goodpasture md Alvin Whitten Boyd; Sarah Margaret Marjorie “Margie” Goodpasture md Ethelbert Henry Jared and Avo Goodpasture md Dr. Jefferson Franklin Dyer.

Dr. James McDonald Goodpasture was a young medical doctor, son of John and Margery Bryan Goodpasture of Hilham, Tennessee, Dr. Goodpasture came to Cookeville when the decision was made to locate Cookeville where it is now situated, but before the original town lots were ready to sell, and he and his brother purchased land for his home at Washington Avenue and First Street, which land joined the 40 acre tract that had been purchased to subdivide for the town of Cookeville. He immediately constructed his home on this site. This house is now the home of his grandson’s widow, Nina (Mrs. Eugene F.) Jared. At that time, no one lived on the adjacent 40 acre tract which was to be Cookeville.

Dr. Goodpasture was one of the first doctors to locate in Cookeville. When the original town lots were ready to sell, Dr. Goodpasture purchased one of the first lots sold and immediately constructed his medical office building, which was a one story brick building on the north side of the public square. This building, the first brick building in Cookeville, remained there until about 1938 when V.R. Williams’ Ben Franklin “Dime Store” was constructed on the site.

John B. Goodpasture, 80, a lifelong resident of Cookeville, and a well known citizen and retired businessman, died Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. W. Boyd. For almost two years, he had been confined to his room by illness.

He was a son of the late Dr. J. M. Goodpasture and wife, Ova Arnold Goodpasture, prominent pioneer residents of Cookeville, who moved from Hilham to Cookeville when the town of Cookeville was established as the county seat site of Putnam County. His father was Cookeville's first physician.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, which church and Sunday school he served for years as treasurer, and had been a deacon in this congregation for 24 years.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, by the Rev. Dow A. Ensor and burial took place in the family lot in the Cookeville Cemetery.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Boyd and Mrs. E. H. Jared, and numerous other relatives in this city and county. One sister, Mrs. Dr. J. F. Dyer, preceded him in death a few years ago.

Charles Green Obt.

GREEN, CHARLES: Train Runs Away Down Silver Point Hill -- Chas. Green Killed. Last Thursday night, June 23, 1904, about 9 o'clock, a train of 12 loaded slag cars in charge of Yardmaster Webster and Engineer Cantrell got beyond control and ran away down Silver Point Hill. Seven rear cars were wrecked near Alcorn siding and Charles Green, a switchman was killed. He was thrown against a rock and his chest crushed, causing internal bleeding, his lungs becoming choked with blood, suffocating him. Haskel Jared, another switchman, and Yardmaster Webster were also on the wrecked cars, but escaped injury. The engine and five head cars remaining on the track, Engineer Cantrell and Fireman Haynes were unhurt, but had a great scare. The remains of Mr. Green were brought here and interred in the city cemetery Friday evening, Mr. Green had lived in Cookeville about a year, and had made many friends here by his steady industry and quiet, gentlemanly bearing. He was familiarly called "Bogus" by his intimates, and was a witty and agreeable companion. Mr. Green was about 40 years of age, and left a widow who will continue to reside here. His parents live in Nashville, where he also has a brother. The Herald extends its deepest sympathy to the sorrowing ones. Mary Viola (Baker) Simrell, d/o James Marion Baker & Barbara “Barbary” Robinson.

Mrs. Mary Simrell Critically Ill; To Mark 98th Birthday:

Friday, January 23, marks the 98th birthday of Mrs. Mary Baker Simrell, who is numbered among Cookeville’s most beloved women. Living for almost a century, hers has been a beautiful and useful life. She is a native White Countain but has called Cookeville home for many years and is the city’s oldest citizen.

At present Mrs. Simrell is critically ill at her home on Spring Street where she, her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Greenwood and Mr. Greenwood have resided for some years and where she has always been a gracious hostess. She enjoyed her friends and in the preceding months when she has been unable to attend the various church meetings as well as gatherings it was her pleasure to have them come to see her.

Cookeville’s Oldest Citizen Dies at 98.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Viola Simrell, Cookeville’s oldest citizen and the oldest member of the Order of the Eastern Star in Tennessee, were held Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church. Officiating at the services was the Rev. Bruce Strother, pastor of the church. Burial was in the Old Zion Cemetery in White County.

Mrs. Simrell died on Friday, which was her 98th birthday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Greenwood. She had been ill for two weeks.

Mrs. Simrell was born in DeKalb County and was the daughter of the late James Marion and Lucinda Robinson Baker. She was the widow of Stanton Farris Simrell. While living in KeKalb she remembers hearing the roar of the cannons from the Battle of Murfreesboro during the Civil War. Mrs. Simrell was a pioneer school teacher in DeKalb County and was one of the first women to hold such a position.

A member off the Order of the Eastern Star for 85 years, Mrs. Simrell was believed to be the oldest member in Tennessee. She had been a member of the Methodist church since childhood and has always been active in both church and civic affairs. She was also a member of the Old Walton Road Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Womens Christian Temperance Union, The United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church. She had lived in Cookeville since 1908.

In 1931 she was crowed “Queen Mother” of her church and had attended each coronation of queen mothers since that date. Last year she witnessed the coronation of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Greenwood.

In addition to her daughter, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Emma Hayes, Warren Co., and Mrs. Lena Johnson, Otoka, OK; a brother, Charles Baker, Sparta; a grandson, Robert S. Greenwood, Cookeville; and two great-grandchildren, Bobby and Ann Greenwood.

A Good Woman Passes Away:

Mrs. Pamela Gilliland, wife of Frank Gilliland, died at her home at Oak Hill, Overton county, on Thursday, November 24. On Friday her remains were brought to Cookeville to the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Lansden, and on Saturday afternoon funeral services were conducted at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church by Rev. J. R. Goodpasture, after which the remains were interred in the Cookeville City cemetery.

Mrs. Gilliland was born in Overton county March 16, 1847, and was married to W. B. Grimsley in November, 1865. To this union six children were born, of which three are living: Mrs. H. C. Lansden and Otto Grimsley of Cookeville, and Alvis Grimsley of Davidson.

Eight years after the death of W. B. Grimsley, she was married to Frank Gilliland of Oak Hill, where she had lived a useful Christian life. She had been a member of the church since the early age of 15 years. For the past several years she had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Cookeville. She has two brothers living: Joe Johnson of Byrdstown and J. T. Johnson of Atlanta, GA. She leaves an aged husband to mourn the loss of a loving companion, and many relatives and friends by whom she will be greatly missed.

TIME:

*Time, flowing like a river
Time, beckoning me
Who knows when we shall meet again
If ever
But time
Keeps flowing like a river
To the sea*

*Goodbye my love,
Maybe for forever
Goodbye my love,
The tide waits for me
Who knows when we shall meet again
If ever
But time
Keeps flowing like a river (on and on)
To the sea, to the sea*

*Till it's gone forever
Gone forever
Gone forevermore*
